

Elliott Wins By 2,772 Votes

GETS 523 MORE VOTES THAN GRAY

Republican Candidate Carries Rush County by Largest Plurality Recorded Since 1908

THE VOTE IS 2440 TO 1917

Has Plurality in Every Precinct in City But One—Net Plurality Gain 157

Piling up the largest plurality since 1908 when William H. Taft carried the county by 558 votes, the republicans of Rush county at the special election yesterday did their "bit" towards the election of Richard N. Elliott to congress, giving him a plurality over Finly Gray, his democratic opponent, of 523 votes.

An analysis of the Rush county vote is most pleasing to republican party leaders. The republicans cast 490 votes less than at the election last fall and the democrats failed to cast as many votes by 610. Despite the falling off in the vote, as was to have been expected because of the unfavorable conditions for holding the election, the republicans here made a net plurality gain of 174 votes.

Last fall the late D. W. Comstock carried Rush county by 349 votes over Finly Gray. Comstock received 2,920 votes and Gray 2,520. At yesterday's special election Elliott received 2,440 and Gray, 1917. The result shows that the republicans would have given Elliott an increased plurality even had both parties cast their full party strength.

The election here clearly demonstrated that the democrats themselves did not want Finly Gray back in congress. In the democratic strongholds of the county, they either did not go to the polls or else voted for Elliott. This is best demonstrated in Posey township, long considered a hot-bed of democracy. In the second precinct, Posey township, Gray beat Elliott by exactly two votes. Gray received 70 votes and Elliott, 68 votes. Last fall the result in this same precinct was Gray, 94 and Comstock, 88.

Rushville township ran true to form, Gray carrying but one precinct, the fourth. Last fall this same result occurred. Elliott carried all of the precincts but the fourth in this township by increased majorities.

One of the surprising things shown yesterday was the increased socialist vote. This was probably because John Nipp, Sr., is a Rush county man and the vote probably went to him because of his friends.

Congressman Elliott expects to leave for Washington by the last of the week. His commission is expected to be ready by tomorrow.

An analysis of the district vote shows that the two leading parties cast just about one-half of the vote of last November. In the various counties the republican can-

Carries Fayette, Henry, Rush, Union and Wayne Counties by Large Pluralities

GRAY WINS HANCOCK BY 40

His Pluralities in Shelby and Franklin Are Reduced However—Wayne Republican by 1,382

Richard N. Elliott of Connersville was elected to congress in the special election yesterday over his democratic opponent Finly Gray by a plurality of 2,772, the largest republican plurality in the Sixth district for many years.

Elliott carried Wayne, Fayette, Union, Henry and Rush counties, while Gray again carried the democrat counties of Shelby, Hancock and Franklin. Reduced Gray vote was noticed in the democratic strongholds, especially in Hancock county. Gray carried Hancock county by forty votes as compared to 507 at the election last November.

In the other counties of the district neither party cast anywhere near the full vote, but the pluralities by counties for the republican candidate were all greater than in 1916. Shelby county gave Gray about the normal democratic plurality. In 1916 Gray carried the county by 350 votes. Yesterday he carried the county by 304 votes.

The vote in Wayne county was light as compared with last November. In the last election the late Judge Comstock carried Wayne county over Finly Gray by 1,250 votes. Yesterday Elliott carried this county over Gray by 1,382 votes despite the light vote. This same condition existed in all the republican counties. While the vote was smaller, the pluralities mounted because the democratic vote was lighter.

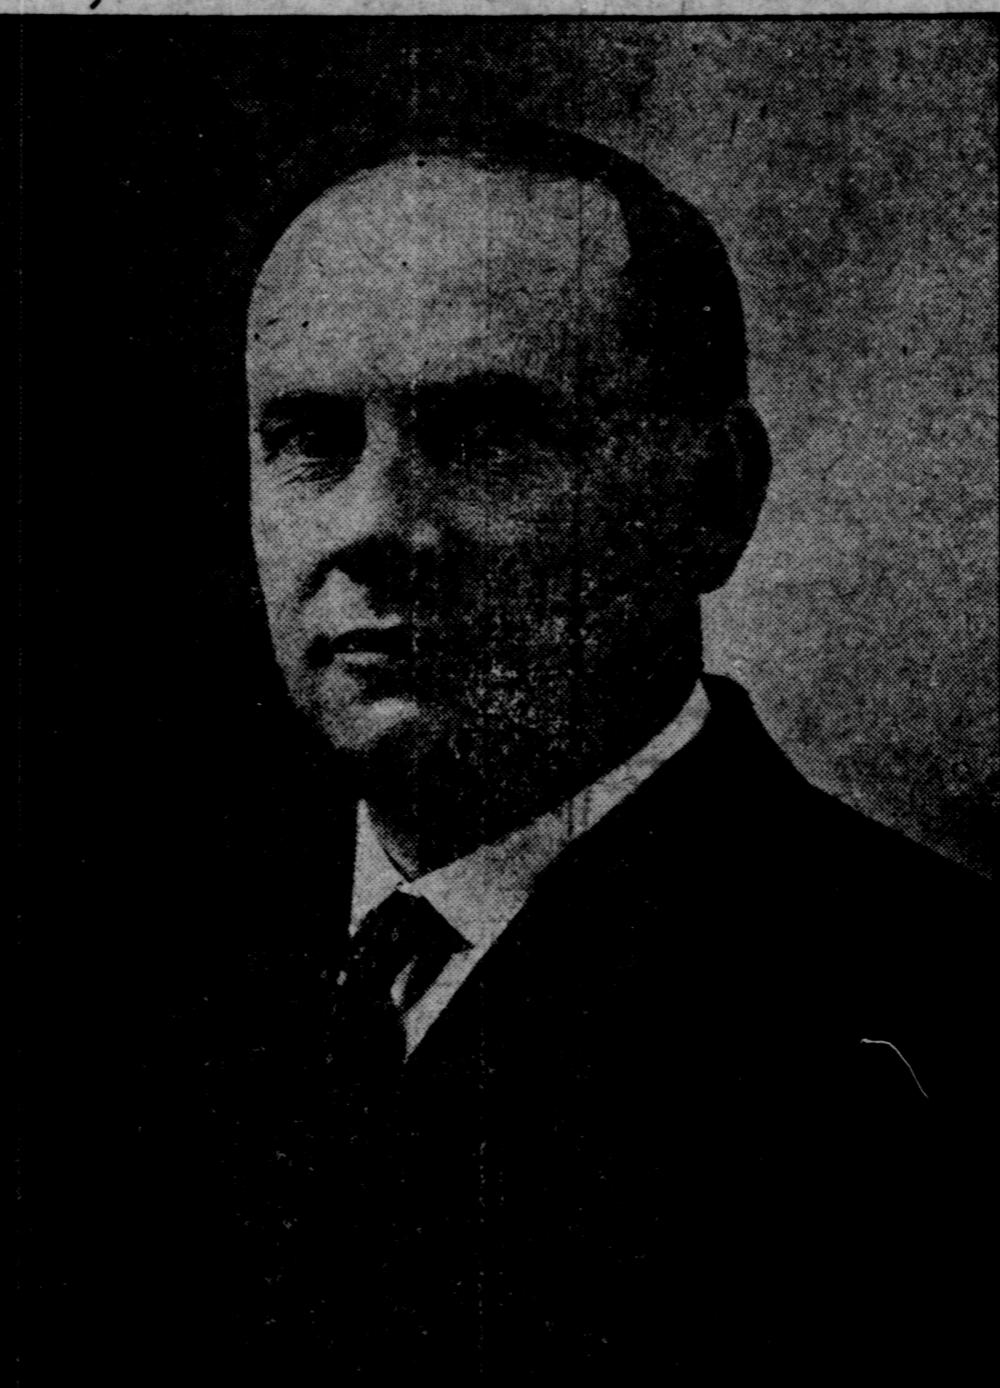

The result of the contest was forecasted early last night and by ten o'clock it was apparent that Elliott would be elected by close to 3,000 votes. The successful candidate spent the evening in Connersville where he received the returns. As soon as the result was practically certain he was the recipient of many messages of congratulations and issued a statement in which he thanked the voters of the district and also the newspapers for their support and co-operation.

Congressman Elliott expects to leave for Washington by the last of the week. His commission is expected to be ready by tomorrow.

An analysis of the district vote shows that the two leading parties cast just about one-half of the vote of last November. In the various counties the republican can-

The rain was general throughout the county, but was heavier here in Rushville than in most parts. In the southern part of the county there was no electrical storm although there was a good rain. Farmers welcomed the rain as the corn was in need of moisture.

JUDGMENT OF $150 BY AN AGREEMENT

Entered Against the I. & C. For Administrator of Louis Wilson Who Sued Yesterday

JUDGE GRANTS NEW TRIAL

Rehearing in Case of Ingersol-Rand Company Against the Greely Stone Company

Action was taken in several cases in circuit court today. By agreement judgment for $250 and costs was entered against the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company in the case filed yesterday by Newton Grull and Clem Grull, administrators of the estate of the late Louis Wilson, who was killed last August in an accident at the Buell stop east of the city. The agreement was reached and the traction company permitted judgment to be taken.

Judge Sparks granted a new trial in the case of the Ingersol-Rand Company against the Greely Stone company of St. Paul. The suit was on a contract, the demand being $2,000. The suit involved a drill purchased by the defendant from the plaintiff. The jury which heard the case gave Greely the sum of $100 and awarded the machine in question to the plaintiff.

During the trial it was shown that Greely had made a payment of $1,095 on the machine and the verdict of the jury would make the defendant be out the sum of $995 and the loss of the machine. The court in granting a new trial stated that he did not like or have any desire to impeach the verdict of the jury but he believed the jury thought in returning this kind of a verdict that the law would refund Greely the sum he had paid for the machine. "Such not being the case," said the court, "I fail to see the equity of such a verdict and therefore order a new trial."

A motion for a new trial in the case of Frederick Hilligoss against Andrew Jackson, to foreclose a landlord's lien, was overruled. The original finding of the court was for the defendant for costs.

Judge Sparks found for the defendant C. W. Mouch in the case brought against him by the F. H. Cheyne Electric company to foreclose a mechanics lien. The case was sent to this county from Henry county.

The suit of Arthur B. Irvin and Donald H. Dean against Lon Linville on a note, demanding $125, was dismissed and the costs paid.

The court ordered the title quieted in the suit brought by James C. Stewart against Abraham Switzer and others. The defendants all permitted judgment to be taken by default.

BOARD MUST HAVE OFFICIAL NOTICE

Refuses to Stop Registering Women For Special Election Until Informed of Injunction

BASED ON PRESS REPORTS

Women Not Disqualified For Voting in City Election—Do Not Register For That

The Rush county registration board announced today that it would continue to register women of legal voting age in this county until officially notified of an injunction issued yesterday by Judge William W. Thornton of the Marion county superior court against the registration of women for the constitutional convention election September 18.

In the event of official notification of the issuing of the injunction, women in the county can not register. Judge Thornton held Monday that women can not vote for delegates to the constitutional convention, but this ruling does not affect the rights of women to vote for certain other offices not created by the constitution, as provided for in the suffrage law passed by the last legislature.

The suffrage law gives women the right to vote for elective officers of cities and towns, which means that the women of Rushville can vote in the city election here next November. They do not have to register in order to vote in that election because the registration law provides that registration for the city election be required only in cities of the first and second class. Rushville is in neither of these classes.

An article in the Indianapolis Star this morning says that after tonight women of Indiana can't register to vote for delegates to the constitutional convention because the injunction will become effective tonight. The Star further says that no official notice of the injunction will be sent to the various county registration boards but that the

President of Woman's Franchise League Says Injunction May Not be Effective For Days

CONFIDENT THEY WILL WIN

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—Women should continue to register until the injunction issued by Judge Thornton in connection with his decision declaring that they are not legally entitled to vote for delegates to the constitutional convention becomes effective. It may be several days before the injunction becomes effective.

This was the statement issued by Mrs. Richard E. Edwards, president of the Woman's Franchise League today. She pointed out that the injunction will not become effective until notice is sent to all counties. In the meantime attorneys for the women are seeking to show Judge Thornton had no right to issue the injunction as it was not asked in the original suit brought by Henry W. Bennett, testing the constitutionality of the convention law.

"Women are confident that they will win in the appeal to the supreme court and then all women who have registered will be entitled to vote," said Mrs. Edwards. Women were rushing to register here today.

Attorney General Eli Stansbury issued a statement today declaring that registration of women for the special election should proceed in the usual way. He said that such registration did not affect the registration.

The Tractor You Can Afford to Buy

If you are supporting from four to six horses in idleness nine months of the year, giving up 20 to 30 acres of your land to raise horse feed instead of marketable crops, you know what this means.

Moline-Universal Tractor

Does all the field work, including the cultivating and harvesting. Belt power up to 12 h. p. It plows deep, at the right time—in half the time.

Has the pulling power of five horses, the working capacity of seven because of greater speed and endurance and eats only when it works.

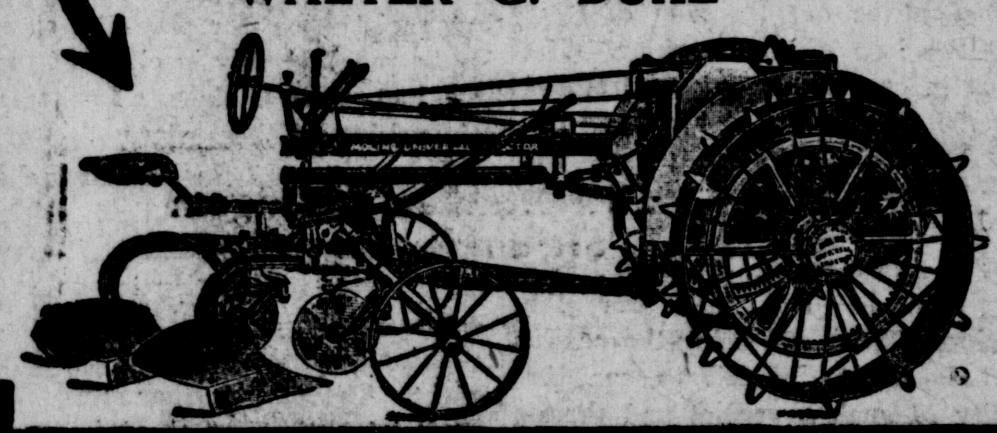

Strictly a one-man machine—drives easier than a team from the seat of the implement pulled.

A proven success. Backed by a $19,000,000 concern with 51 years satisfactory service to the farmers of America.

THE ROADSTER (3-passenger) comes next in popularity, and then the two models equipped with "All Seasons" tops.

NOW, NO MATTER which of these four Reo models you prefer, there's one rule that applies to all—the tremendous over-demand.

Ingenious Schemes Used

Yesterday by Republicans

To Get Voters to Polls

Several ingenious schemes were devised and carried out by the republicans of Rush county yesterday to get out the vote.

Probably the best of the plans used was that in Ripley township where party workers had substitutes to work for the farmers in the field while the farmer went and cast his ballot. They would drive up to a farm in a machine, and if the farmer did not intend to stop plowing corn to go vote, a man to work in his place was offered and he was taken in the machine to the polls to vote.

Instances were reported where farmers living near Milroy drove out of the corn field on their riding plows to the polls, voted and returned to the field on their plows and resumed work. One farmer hauling a load of hay to Milroy took all of the men in his neighborhood to the polls at Milroy.

vote last fall. Yesterday this township gave Nipp 11 votes, the first precinct giving him three and the second precinct eight votes.

Factional differences in the democratic ranks was evident in Anderson township. Gray, it will be recalled, had a postoffice fight in Milroy and the result was evidenced in the vote from this township. In 1916 the democrats in this township cast a total of 17 3 votes. Yesterday the township gave Gray 112 votes. And at that the republican vote in Anderson township was not normal. Last fall, the republicans cast 285 votes and yesterday the result showed 241 votes cast.

The prohibitionists of the county lost 12 votes in yesterday's election over the total cast last fall. This party cast 122 votes yesterday compared with 134 in 1916.

The election was one of the quietest ever held in Rush county. There was absolutely no trouble at the polls. Both parties had trouble in getting out the vote, but the republican victory is considered the most sweeping in this county for several years and once more demonstrates a reunited and militant party, republican leaders believe.

REGISTRATION BOARD MUST HAVE AN OFFICIAL NOTICE

boards, as parties to the suit brought to test the constitutionality of the constitutional convention law, are presumed to have knowledge of the injunction.

The Rush county board takes a different view of the matter. It is pointed out that the only way a county board would have knowledge of the injunction would be to read it in the newspapers. The board says injunctions are not served in this manner and that they will not heed it at all unless officially notified.

Up to last night two hundred and seventy-nine voters had registered and they were still registering at about the same rate today as they have been since the board went in session. Approximately half of the number are women, it is estimated.

A peculiar condition might arise out of the decision of Judge Thornton. An appeal to the state supreme court is being prepared by attorneys for the Legislative Council of Indiana women and will probably be filed tomorrow. In case the state supreme court should not return a decision until after August 20, when the session of the registration board ends, and should then hold the law allowing women to vote for constitutional delegates to be valid, the women would have no opportunity to register and only those who had registered up to the time of the injunction could vote.

LEGISLATURE HAS POWER TO FIX PRICE

Governor Goodrich Makes Public Opinion Regarding Coal Given by Two Attorneys

DEFENSE COUNCIL MEETS

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—The legislature has power to fix prices for coal in the state and to keep within the state the product of coal mines of Indiana, if advisable, according to an opinion given Governor Goodrich by Charles E. Cox and Will H. Thompson, made public today.

Governor Goodrich in speaking before the state council of defense today indicated that if all other plans to insure a supply of coal for Indiana consumers failed he will call a special session of the legislature, to enact the needed legislation. The governor stated, however, that a special session is improbable.

The council adopted a resolution calling on congress to support the bill giving the president power to regulate the coal supply.

Cold Pack Process Best For Canning

(Prepared by Home Economics Department of Purdue University for the United Press.)

[Following is the start of a series of articles by Purdue university experts on canning, an important item in the food conservation movement.]

The American people have learned that fruit and green vegetables are no longer a luxury but a necessity; that it is much more economical to have these in the diet than to patronize the doctor and druggist. In summer these may be readily had but it is necessary to can them to preserve them for winter use.

To can vegetables successfully, the cold pack process must be used. This means that the material must be selected, prepared, put into cans and sterilized. For this method air tight cans, plenty of hot and cold water and some vessel with a tight cover that is deep enough to have the cans completely immersed in water are the most important requisits.

Select vegetables when in the prime of condition. Have them neither green nor over mature, free from blemishes and crisp. Look over carefully, wash and if desired, break or cut into pieces suitable for serving. The blanching process takes place next. This consists in plunging the vegetables into hot water for from five to fifteen minutes. This is desirable to reduce the bulk; remove objectionable acids and make it possible to completely sterilize in one period rather than on successive days. The blanching is immediately followed by a plunge into cold water to stop the cooking and help keep the color good. The cans are filled to within a quarter or half inch of the top and usually hot water poured over to cover the vegetables. One teaspoon of salt is added to each quart of flavor. New rubbers are placed and the top put on loosely. No pressure is used with the screw top cans and the spring left unclamped when using spring topped cans.

Note: Tomorrow's article will tell how to sterilize the cans, the next step in the canning process.

Give Farmers Practical Aid

If all of the gratuitous advice tendered the farmers since the food crisis developed were compiled in one work, the Encyclopaedia Britannica would not hold it. Possibly there was some sound sense in portions of it. Certainly the major portion of it has been the merest driveline.

It is not advice that the farmer needs. If there is a class of men in this nation today who are really familiar with every phase of their profession, it is the farmers. And it is often with a feeling of amused contempt that they read the senseless vaporings of the wiseacres who essay to instruct them.

What the farmer is in dire need of right now is more man power—man power to put into effect the plans he is perfectly capable of formulating and carrying out if he has agents to do his bidding. Let him be ever so intelligent—and as a rule he is a person of sound sense and reason—he simply can not cultivate a hundred acre farm by himself. But he can utilize a thousand acres if he has the man power with which to do it, for he already has the brains.

We should make no mistake in this matter. With practically the world to feed, if this war is won the farmers will play an important part in the winning, and all of the advice from those slackers who have nothing else to give is not going to help him one whit.

"Can" the advice and offer him work—good sound muscle and sweat—and the farmer will feed the world and do his "bit" toward winning the war.

The most obvious fact to the farmer is that, in the approaching draft and mobilization, the first army to be raised should be an army of the furrows, and that army should be brought to the furrows from other fields of work—or idleness. And at no time will this need be more pressing than on the day of harvest.

The average farmer can extract all of the advice he needs just now from a long life of experience. What will be most effective now is bone and muscle, backed by a willing mind and an intelligence that even approaches his own.

Get the man power. The farmer will do the rest.

Save Our Soles

U. S. vice consul Hamilton C. Claiborne, at Bradford, England, contributes to the Daily Commerce Reports an interesting article on the manufacture and use of clogs in England. The soles are made of wood, usually birch or beech, with leather uppers. The sole is said to be more comfortable than leather and more impervious to dampness, while the cost per pair is considerably smaller. Except for trades where leather soles would soon be destroyed, there is very little use made of wooden soles in this country, but the encouragement of their use should be undertaken as a matter of prime economy at this time. If there is one article of commerce in which our manufacturers are at their wits' end to secure it is sole leather. The dearth of this material is one of the chief reasons for the high prices of shoes today.

Thousands of our workmen, once to give the men training.

they had learned the value of clogs, would be glad to effect the saving in price on their work shoes and this would result in a material saving of sole leather. In these days of war prosperity the "clang of wooden shoon" on the pavements would be in merry contrast to the morgue-like silence of the mills in 1914.

Sow Says

U. S. Consul Williamson, Dairen, Manchuria, writes that considerable interest has been created at his post because of the report that American mills were taking up the work of expressing soy bean oil and hence were making purchases of the bean from the Far East. The Japanese had expected that our mills would busy themselves with beans grown in the U. S. A., but the consul says: "It is doubtful, however, if the quantity of home-grown beans is anywhere near large enough to supply many mills."

Well, why not make it large enough. The Republican tariff put an import duty of 45 cents a bushel (60 pounds) on soy beans and made oil free. The Democratic law permits both to enter free. The correct way would be to restore the duty on the bean, and put a protective rate on the oil. That would encourage our growers and our oil-expressers. This soy bean is becoming a very remarkable article of commerce, of which little was known by us a few years ago. It is fine for food. Ground into flour it makes good vermicelli. It is used to make vinegar, and produces good oil for soapmaking. Besides all this, it enriches the soil. It can be grown wherever corn is produced. We should nationalize it as a crop and as an industry. Give it the proper rate of duty.

We've had our "missions" from England and France, from Russia and Italy and Belgium, with a Japanese mission hovering in the offing. Truly, this must be a land of milk and honey for the "missionaries." Come on, Carranza!

We call him the "food hog" because we can not find a word in the English language degrading enough to be appropriate.

It's no disgrace to stub your toe. The disgrace lies in not getting up and make fresh start.

Back up the government till the kaiser backs down.

THIRD TIME CHARM FOR SEN. WATSON

Speaks to Soldiers at Ft. Benjamin Harrison After Failures on Two Previous Attempts

RAIN ALMOST SPOILS EVENT

Senator Compliments Men on Sacrifice They Are Making in Volunteering to Serve Country

The third time proved a charm for Senator James E. Watson when he addressed the men of the Officers' Reserve Corps at Fort Benjamin Harrison yesterday evening. On two other occasions Senator Watson had an engagement to address the candidates for officers commissions but was disappointed. The last time Governor Stanley of Kentucky spoke all of his own time and Senator Watson's time so that the senator did not have opportunity to talk.

The Indianapolis Star reports the speech as follows: After the parade during which there was only a light shower, the men gathered in front of the Post Exchange, protecting themselves from the rain with dry afternoon papers.

The ranks parted and Gen. Glenn, Governor Goodrich and Senator Watson mounted the steps to the accompaniment of cheers. Gen. Glenn stepping forward and stopping the men's singing, said: "This is the third or fourth time we have tried to get the United States senator to address us. Even now the elements are against us. As for us, we stood our baptism of water when we first settled at the fort, and if Senator Watson can stand it we can. I have great pleasure in introducing Senator Watson.

Senator Watson said: "Soldiers of the army of 1917. I know it is somewhat of a task to talk to a hungry people. One evening when I was out here while a gentleman was speaking I heard a lady say that it was a shame to keep the boys from their dinner just to hear a speech. The officer she spoke to replied: 'Madam, they must endure it; that is part of the hardening process.' It is hard to address you, gentlemen. One can not think or speak frivolously in the face of what you are doing. It is with conflicting emotions that a man must face such an assemblage as this."

Let us pause here to remark that in some mysterious way, in the midst of the soldiers, and at the foot of the post exchange steps, stood an elderly gentleman, full of June enthusiasm and wearing a radiant smile. When Senator Watson concluded the remark above quoted, the fervent civilian ejaculated, audibly as if he were at a Methodist revival meeting, "Amen!" This he continued, at intervals, throughout the senator's speech, but he was so earnest about it and so persistently happy in doing it, that even the soldiers could do nothing but laugh at, and with, him.

Continuing Senator Watson: "While it is one's bounden duty to speak to you words of high encouragement and good cheer, one can not refrain, either, from touching upon and thinking of the tremendous and solemn responsibility that rests not alone on you, but on all.

"Having cast my vote for war I feel a particular sense of responsibility which I can not shake off. There were some timid ones who imagined that this republic could not mobilize its forces, its industries, its moneys. This wonderful assemblage is a direct and positive answer to those critics. You men have come here from every walk of life; from fine homes; from prosperous business and professional life; from colleges and universities, inspired by a common patriotism, and it is a fine refutation of the slander that we can not defend ourselves, when we see you men assembled to defend with your lives, if need be, the glory of the American flag.

"We are in this war because we could not keep out. It is a war of self-defense. It was Germany who marked off on the oceans of the world, a space 1,100 miles long and 1,400 miles wide, and said that within that forbidden zone our ships should not pass in safety. In reply to that all the nations opposed to Germany had to unite for the freedom of the seas. We were the ones that were assailed, and we fight

CONSPIRACY TO GET A SEPARATE PEACE

State Department Messages Indicate King Leopold of Bavaria Conspired With Agitator

SPEECH INTERCEPTED WIRE

(By United Press)

Washington, June 27.—That King Leopold of Bavaria, commanding the German forces, conspired with the Russian agitator Lenin towards procuring a general peace without annexation or contribution, was the belief here today following receipt of messages by the state department.

The dispatches stated that Lenin spoke before the Russian Workmen and soldiers congress in favor of a general peace. Another delegate then arose and announced that he would repeat the agitator's address. Reading from manuscript he duplicated Lenin's speech, whereupon he announced that the document was really an intercepted wireless signed by the King of Bavaria. The belief is that Lenin received the message and delivered it as his own speech.

WAR FUND IS INCREASED

Orange Township Subscriptions $45.03 Greater Than Reported

The Rush county Red Cross War Relief fund was increased today by $45.03 when it was found that the Orange township contribution had been reported to Chairman E. B. Thomas too low. The sum of money raised in the township was $994.03 instead of $949, which was reported to Chairman Thomas Monday night. This increases the total for the county to $21,701.48 providing Rushville township's total reaches $7,500, as it is now believed that it will.

FORT NAMED AFTER HIM

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger has received word from his brother, Dr. John W. Kinsinger, who enlisted in the regular army as surgeon, that he has been honored by having a fort named after him. He enlisted in the army for five years and is now stationed at Columbus, New Mexico.

now for the freedom of the seas; for our liberty and our right to life around the belted globe. We could do no less, and your appearance here shows how ably we are getting ready for the serious task before us.

It is too late now to consider the facts of history; too late for diplomatic methods—too late for aught but to resolve that America must win this war."

He referred to the wars of the past; recalled that the fathers fought for their own liberty; that the Spanish-American war was fought for the liberty of an oppressed people, and he said "we are fighting in the hope of liberty for the entire political world."

"Let the comforting thought be with you that the people are back of you in this fight; that money is back of you, that Congress is back of you." This caused a burst of laughter.

"Oh," said Senator Watson, "that laugh means that you have not been paid yet. Well, we've appropriated the money. All the same, boys, I don't blame you for laughing."

Just here the pleasant civilian interjected another pleasant, "Amen!"

In conclusion Senator Watson said: "On the ocean's front we are a united people; we will stand together to defend the flag. We can not think of Germany as a power in South America, in Mexico, in Canada; having defeated England and France. Go forward, we in Congress will stand back of you till victory is assured, and when the conflict is over you will have the glory of knowing that you have lifted to greater heights than ever before the American flag."

He paused and then added: "I can not conclude without saying how fortunate you men are to be under the leadership of such a man as Gen. Glenn." (Cheers for a full minute.) "He is every inch a soldier. You men here in Fort Benjamin Harrison are on historic ground; made historic by famous soldiers, and under the leadership of such men as your commanding officer you are going out to march to undoubted victory!"

And once more, the old gentleman, cried "Amen!"

COAL OPERATORS MILKING THE PUBLIC

This is Admission of Former Coal Man, Now Member of Council of National Defense

MAKE 300 PER CENT PROFIT

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 27.—That American coal operators are milking the consumer out of great sums of money daily under cover of war conditions was the statement by C. M. Moderwell of Chicago, member of the coal committee of the council of National Defense and until recently associated with the United Coal Mining company of Illinois.

The hearing before the committee was on the Cummins bill authorizing price fixing on coal, railroad supplies and material used in their productions. Moderwell said the coal producers would be able to reduce prices if allowed to reach a selling agreement.

He admitted many companies are selling coal at a 200 to 300 per cent profit, but said his company had on productions. Moderwell said the from 55 to 100 per cent over a year ago.

It will do its utmost to see that there is no surplus which can leak into Germany.

These points were made clear by one of the members of the new council.

The neutrals also will be told frankly that if they want food they can send their own ships after it.

FRENCH ARE ALSO SOME FARMERS

Territory Recaptured From Germans Less Than Three Months Ago Under Cultivation

CONTRAST IS VERY GREAT

District Devastated by the Germans Is Once More Made to do Its Part

By HENRY WOOD

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the French Armies, May 30—(By Mail)—Less than three months ago, the French armies took back from the Germans over 1,000 square kilometers of French soil, blasted, blackened and devastated as though God himself had just passed over it his most terrible scourge.

Today, under the magic touch of the French armies, who know both how to fight and to work, this thousand square kilometers of redeemed France, is blossoming and blooming like a rose.

To a person who passed through this district the day after the German hordes had passed, and who passes there today, the change almost surpasses human belief.

The contrast is so great that one is tempted to believe that other elements than merely those of the French mind and the French arm have entered into the transformation. One jumps conclusively to the conviction that Mother Nature herself had leant a helping and lavish hand in an effort to recompense the smitten district from the sufferings it had undergone.

Entering this sunny, smiling, verdant district for the first time since the German devastations, a person's first startling question to himself is "Did the Germans really destroy anything? Wasn't it all merely a myth? It seems humanly impossible that the change there apparent could be wrought in less than three months.

Nothing has been done towards restoring the ruined towns, villages and farm houses. But the original impression of unutterable devastation created by them is immensely softened by the fact that they are now almost hidden in waving grain fields, smiling vineyards and blossoming orchards.

The French soldiers working under direction of French generals, who know other things than mere military operations, have found the means of saving thousands of trees.

Throughout the entire district devastated by the Germans there were thousands of trees that the close pursuit of the French kept the Germans from having time completely to cut down. Instead, the Kultured Tree Killers cut off a circle of bark around the trunk of the tree, which with a few days' exposure to the sun would be sufficient to kill peach, plum, apple, apricot and cherry trees that had been half a century attaining their then actual productiveness.

These trees presented the easiest problem. The wounds were merely bound up like the wounds of a soldier. Thousands of Army surgeons and Red Cross ambulane drivers and stretcher carriers assisted too in this work. The circles where the bark had been cut away was first covered with a special grafting cement, and the entire wound then carefully bandaged up after with the same bandages that had been prepared for human limbs.

So great was the number of trees in this way that the entire available supply of grafting preparation was quickly exhausted. Tar was then used as a substitute and finally even a loamy clay. Substitutes for surgical bandages also had to be found and in the end it was discovered that moss twisted and tied about the dressed wound was as effective as anything else.

A much more serious problem of course presented itself where the trees had been entirely cut or sawed down. But here French genius also solved the problem.

The stumps protruding usually two or three feet from the ground were first trimmed off in a scientific manner so as to conserve the sap and prevent the death of the roots. This stump was then treated with the grafting paste and carefully bandaged till the cut down tree lying at the side budded from the sap.

DECORATED BUT HE CAN'T TELL WHY

Naval Ethics Prevent Commander Campbell From Telling Cause of Remarkable Career

MUST WAIT FOR WAR TO END

(By United Press.)

London, June 10 (By mail)—Commander Gordon Campbell, mysterious hero of the British navy, leaped 700 junior naval officers in promotion, became a member of the Distinguished Service Order and was decorated with the Victoria Cross in less than a year and a half. Yet, with a storm raging around his secret career, he is bound by naval ethics not to tell publicly how he won either his promotion or the high honors bestowed by King George.

Curiosity started mildly, but when Campbell and the Admiralty remained silent, the demand for information reached the proportion of a public uproar. Campbell is not criticized, exactly; the public really wants a chance to sing his praises. The music is ready but the English hero worshippers refuse to sing a song without words, which makes the present demonstration a clamor instead of a popular laudation.

A high official of the Admiralty today assured the United Press that Campbell's achievements and bravery during the war deserves every ray of honor turned upon him. When the war is over the people may know what he did and how he did it, but for the time being his deeds must remain behind the veil.

Just recently his name appeared in the Court Circular as the recipient of the Victoria Cross, highest of all honors for sheer bravery, so Campbell must have found something more exciting than the command of the Bittern.

and life that remained in it after being cut down. Branches that showed great numbers of buds and other signs of exceptional vitality were then cut off and finally grafted into the carefully prepared stump.

Today these grafts are in full leaf and blossom, the roots appear to have been entirely saved and by this process years have been saved in restoring the downy orchards of France.

On every hand are also to be seen carefully and cultivated and sown fields each bearing its nice little painted sign:

"Terain Cultive Par L'Armee"

(Ground Cultivated by the Army)

As the troops pass, either going to or from the front, they stop and dedicate a day to the cultivation of the redeemed fields. The next day they pass on and other troops resume the work. It is doubtful if any one soldier will ever again see the fields he has worked—or help gather the crops he has cultivated. But he works just as willingly knowing that it is all for France and all for the ultimate victory.

No more convincing denial of the German's claim that they abandoned this territory of their own free will and not under irrevocable military pressure could be imagined than a glimpse at the wonderful productiveness of these growing fields and blossoming orchards. While their abundant crops will be welcomed by all France this coming summer and fall there can be no question but they would have been a thousand times more vitally necessary to starving Germany—had she been able to hang onto them.

HOOSIER BRIEFS.

Greensburg—Tom, the Piper's son had nothing on Raymond Goins, 16, who confessed stealing a pig and carrying it to his home in a sack.

Crawfordsville—A few men are needed to bring Company C to the full war strength of 150 men. The company should have been recruited to full strength before this if some of the members had not been transferred to other branches of the service.

Columbus—Bartholomew county has turned $50,066.25 over to the state as its share of the year's taxes.

Evansville—Ten teachers have retired by order of the Evansville school board because of insufficiency.

REFUSES TO GIVE PRESIDENT POWER

Senate Committee Will Not Vest in Him Right to Control Wine and Beer Production

FOR HOUSE DRY AMENDMENT

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 27.—The senate agriculture committee today refused to accept the sub-committee report on the bone dry amendment to the food control bill, placing control of beer and wine production in the hands of the president.

Instead the committee substituted the bone dry provision submitted by the house permitting the president to authorize the manufacture of wine only if he desired.

vote last fall. Yesterday this township gave Nipp 11 votes, the first precinct giving him three and the second precinct eight votes.

Factional differences in the democratic ranks was evident in Anderson township. Gray, it will be recalled, had a postoffice fight in Milroy and the result was evidenced in the vote from this township. In 1916 the democrats in this township cast a total of 173 votes. Yesterday the township gave Gray 112 votes. And at that the republican vote in Anderson township was not normal. Last fall the republicans cast 285 votes and yesterday the result showed 241 votes cast.

The prohibitionists of the county lost 12 votes in yesterday's election over the total cast last fall. This party cast 122 votes yesterday compared with 134 in 1916.

The election was one of the quietest ever held in Rush county. There was absolutely no trouble at the polls. Both parties had trouble in getting out the vote, but the republican victory is considered the most sweeping in this county for several years and once more demonstrates a reunited and militant party, republican leaders believe.

DEMOCRATIC EDITORS MEET

Two Days Summer Session Opens in Indianapolis

Indianapolis, June 27.—Democratic editors of the state gathered here today for their annual two day summer meeting. The Indiana Democratic club made preparations for the entertainment of the visitors. A business session was held this morning; this afternoon the editors made a trip to Ft. Harrison and a banquet at Riverside park is planned for tonight. Claude Bowers of Ft. Wayne; William L. Slinkard, Bloomfield and A. B. Crampton, president of the National Military home will speak at the affair.

5 SUFFRAGISTS ARRESTED

Washington, June 27.—Five more suffragists pickets carrying banners were arrested in front of the white house yesterday afternoon and taken to the detention home in autos commandeered by the police. The women tried to retain their holds on the banners but they were forcibly taken away by officials.

Ingenious Schemes Used

Yesterday by Republicans

To Get Voters to Polls

Several ingenious schemes were devised and carried out by the republicans of Rush county yesterday to get out the vote.

Probably the best of the plans used was that in Ripley township where party workers had substitutes to work for the farmers in the field while the farmer went and cast his ballot. They would drive up to a farm in a machine, and if the farmer did not intend to stop plowing corn to go vote, a man to work in his place was offered and he was taken in the machine to the polls to vote.

Instances were reported where farmers living near Milroy drove out of the corn field on their riding plows to the polls, voted and returned to the field on their plows and resumed work. One farmer hauling a load of hay to Milroy took all of the men in his neighborhood to the polls at Milroy.

The republicans heard of a man southwest of Rushville who had to bring a team and wagon to Rushville yesterday evening, but could not reach here in time to vote. Workers went to meet him in an automobile, brought him back in the machine and one of the party workers drove the team to Rushville.

Gov. Goodrich is extremely anxious to see the coal proposition straightened out and has been devoting considerable time and work to it. The governor believes the state should go ahead and attempt to adjust its own coal conditions without waiting for federal action.

The coal mine operators were represented by A. M. Ogle, E. M. Ferguson and William Johnson.

Cold Pack Process Best For Canning

(Prepared by Home Economics Department of Purdue University for the United Press.)

[Following is the start of a series of articles by Purdue university experts on canning, an important item in the food conservation movement.]

The American people have learned that fruit and green vegetables are no longer a luxury but a necessity; that it is much more economical to have these in the diet than to patronize the doctor and druggist. In summer these may be readily had but it is necessary to can them to preserve them for winter use.

To can vegetables successfully, the cold pack process must be used. This means that the material must be selected, prepared, put into cans and sterilized. For this method air tight cans, plenty of hot and cold water and some vessel with a tight cover that is deep enough to have the cans completely immersed in water are the most important requisits.

Select vegetables when in the prime of condition. Have them neither green nor over mature, free from blemishes and crisp. Look over carefully, wash and if desired, break or cut into pieces suitable for serving. The blanching process takes place next. This consists in plunging the vegetables into hot water for from five to fifteen minutes. This is desirable to reduce the bulk; remove objectionable acids and make it possible to completely sterilize in one period rather than on successive days. The blanching is immediately followed by a plunge into cold water to stop the cooking and help keep the color good. The cans are filled to within a quarter or half inch of the top and usually hot water poured over to cover the vegetables. One teaspoon of salt is added to each quart of flavor. New rubbers are placed and the top put on loosely. No pressure is used with the screw top cans and the spring left unclamped when using spring topped cans.

Note: Tomorrow's article will tell how to sterilize the cans, the next step in the canning process.

THIRD TIME CHARM FOR SEN. WATSON

Speaks to Soldiers at Ft. Benjamin Harrison After Failures on Two Previous Attempts

RAIN ALMOST SPOILS EVENT

Senator Compliments Men on Sacrifice They Are Making in Volunteering to Serve Country

The third time proved a charm for Senator James E. Watson when he addressed the men of the Officers' Reserve Corps at Fort Benjamin Harrison yesterday evening. On two other occasions Senator Watson had an engagement to address the candidates for officers commissions but was disappointed. The last time Governor Stanley of Kentucky spoke all of his own time and Senator Watson's time so that the senator did not have opportunity to talk.

The Indianapolis Star reports the speech as follows: After the parade during which there was only a light shower, the men gathered in front of the Post Exchange, protecting themselves from the rain with dry afternoon papers.

The ranks parted and Gen. Glenn, Governor Goodrich and Senator Watson mounted the steps to the accompaniment of cheers. Gen. Glenn stepping forward and stopping the men's singing, said: "This is the third or fourth time we have tried to get the United States senator to address us. Even now the elements are against us. As for us, we stood our baptism of water when we first settled at the fort, and if Senator Watson can stand it we can. I have great pleasure in introducing Senator Watson.

Senator Watson said: "Soldiers of the army of 1917. I know it is somewhat of a task to talk to a hungry people. One evening when I was out here while a gentleman was speaking I heard a lady say that it was a shame to keep the boys from their dinner just to hear a speech. The officer she spoke to replied: 'Madam, they must endure it; that is part of the hardening process.' It is hard to address you, gentlemen. One can not think or speak frivolously in the face of what you are doing. It is with conflicting emotions that a man must face such an assemblage as this."

Let us pause here to remark that in some mysterious way, in the midst of the soldiers, and at the foot of the post exchange steps, stood an elderly gentleman, full of June enthusiasm and wearing a radiant smile. When Senator Watson concluded the remark above quoted, the fervent civilian ejaculated, audibly as if he were at a Methodist revival meeting, "Amen!" This he continued, at intervals, throughout the senator's speech, but he was so earnest about it and so persistently happy in doing it, that even the soldiers could do nothing but laugh at and with him.

Continuing Senator Watson: "While it is one's bounden duty to speak to you words of high encouragement and good cheer, one can not refrain, either, from touching upon and thinking of the tremendous and solemn responsibility that rests not alone on you, but on all."

"Having cast my vote for war I feel a particular sense of responsibility which I can not shake off. There were some timid ones who imagined that this republic could not mobilize its forces, its industries, its moneys. This wonderful assemblage is a direct and positive answer to those critics. You men have come here from every walk of life, from fine homes, from prosperous business and professional life; from colleges and universities, inspired by a common patriotism, and it is a fine refutation of the slander that we can not defend ourselves, when we see you men assembled to defend with your lives, if need be, the glory of the American flag.

"We are in this war because we could not keep out. It is a war of self-defense. It was Germany who marked off on the oceans of the world, a space 1,100 miles long and 1,400 miles wide, and said that within that forbidden zone our ships should not pass in safety. In reply to that all the nations opposed to Germany had to unite for the freedom of the seas. We were the ones that were invaded, and we fight

State Department Messages Indicate King Leopold of Bavaria Conspired With Agitator

SPEECH INTERCEPTED WIRE

(By United Press) Washington, June 27.—That King Leopold of Bavaria, commanding the German forces, conspired with the Russian agitator Lenin towards procuring a general peace without annexation or contribution, was the belief here today following receipt of messages by the state department. The dispatches stated that Lenin spoke before the Russian Workmen and soldiers congress in favor of a general peace. Another delegate arose and announced that he would repeat the agitator's address. Reading from a manuscript he duplicated Lenin's speech, whereupon he announced that the document was really an intercepted wireless signed by the King of Bavaria. The belief is that Lenin received the message and delivered it as his own speech.

WAR FUND IS INCREASED

Orange Township Subscriptions $45.03 Greater Than Reported

The Rush county Red Cross War Relief fund was increased today by $45.03 when it was found that the Orange township contribution had been reported to Chairman E. B. Thomas too low. The sum of money raised in the township was $994.03 instead of $949, which was reported to Chairman Thomas Monday night. This increases the total for the county to $21,701.48, providing Rushville township's total reaches $7,500, as it is now believed that it will.

FORT NAMED AFTER HIM

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger has received word from his brother, Dr. John W. Kinsinger, who enlisted in the regular army as a surgeon, that he has been honored by having a fort named after him. He enlisted in the army for five years and is now stationed at Columbus, New Mexico.

now for the freedom of the seas, for our liberty and our right to life around the belted globe. We could do no less, and your appearance here shows how ably we are getting ready for the serious task before us.

It is too late now to consider the facts of history; too late for diplomatic methods—too late for aught but to resolve that America must win this war."

He referred to the wars of the past; recalled that the fathers fought for their own liberty; that the Spanish-American war was fought for the liberty of an oppressed people, and he said "we are fighting in the hope of liberty for the entire political world."

"Let the comforting thought be with you that the people are back of you in this fight; that money is back of you, that Congress is back of you." This caused a burst of laughter.

"Oh," said Senator Watson, "that laugh means that you have not been paid yet. Well, we've appropriated the money. All the same, boys, I don't blame you for laughing."

Just here the pleasant civilian interjected another pleasant, "Amen!"

In conclusion Senator Watson said: "On the ocean's front we are a united people; we will stand together to defend the flag. We can not think of Germany as a power in South America, in Mexico, in Canada; having defeated England and France. Go forward, we in Congress will stand back of you till victory is assured, and when the conflict is over you will have the glory of knowing that you have lifted to greater heights than ever before the American flag."

He paused and then added: "I can not conclude without saying how fortunate you men are to be under the leadership of such a man as Gen. Glenn." (Cheers for a full minute.)

"He is every inch a soldier. You men here in Fort Benjamin Harrison are on historic ground; made historic by famous soldiers, and under the leadership of such men as your commanding officer you are going out to march to undoubted victory."

And once more, the old soldier cried, "Amen!"

COAL OPERATORS MILKING THE PUBLIC

This is Admission of Former Coal Man, Now Member of Council of National Defense

MAKE 300 PER CENT PROFIT

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 27.—That American coal operators are milking the consumer out of great sums of money daily under cover of war conditions was the statement by C. M. Moderwell of Chicago, member of the coal committee of the council of National Defense and until recently associated with the United Coal Mining company of Illinois.

The hearing before the committee was on the Cummins bill authorizing price fixing on coal, railroad supplies and material used in their productions. Moderwell said the coal producers would be able to reduce prices if allowed to reach a selling agreement.

He admitted many companies are selling coal at a 200 to 300 per cent profit, but said his company had no production. Moderwell said the from 55 to 100 per cent over a year ago.

TO PUT NEUTRALS ON SHORTER RATIONS

Exports Council to Determine What They Need By Export Figures For Many Years

TO STOP LEAKS TO GERMANY

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 27.—Neutrals will be on shorter rations than they have been in many months.

The exports council, named by President Wilson, will apportion supplies for them subject to the president's approval.

It will determine what the neutrals' needs are, based on export figures covering a period of years.

It will do its utmost to see that there is no surplus which can leak into Germany.

These points were made clear by one of the members of the new council.

The neutrals also will be told frankly that if they want food they can send their own ships after it.

BROADENS CONTROL BILL

Senate Committee Would Include Coal and Other Products

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 27.—The senate agriculture committee voted to broaden the house control to include regulation of coal, steel, oil, petroleum products, farm implements and other necessities.

The committee amended the bill to exclude food consumption from control of the food administration. It was further agreed to release the farmer of all regulations under the bill covering power to requisition products.

BRITISH CALL CONFERENCE

Indication of Greater Democratization of the Government

(By United Press.)

The conference will also discuss the relation of the two houses.

FRENCH ARE ALSO SOME FARMERS

Territory Recaptured From Germans Less Than Three Months Ago Under Cultivation

CONTRAST IS VERY GREAT

District Devastated by the Germans Is Once More Made to do Its Part

By HENRY WOOD

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the French Armies, May 30 — (By Mail) — Less than three months ago, the French armies took back from the Germans over 1,000 square kilometers of French soil, blasted, blackened and devastated as though God himself had just passed over it his most terrible scourge.

Today, under the magic touch of the French armies, who know both how to fight and to work, this thousand square kilometers of redeemed France, is blossoming and blooming like a rose.

To a person who passed through this district the day after the German hordes had passed, and who passes there today, the change almost surpasses human belief.

The contrast is so great that one is tempted to believe that other elements than merely those of the French mind and the French arm have entered into the transformation. One jumps conclusively to the conviction that Mother Nature herself had leant a helping and lavish hand in an effort to recompense the smitten district from the sufferings it had undergone.

Entering this sunny, smiling, verdant district for the first time since the German devastations, a person's first startling question to himself is "Did the Germans really destroy anything? Wasn't it all merely a myth? It seems humanly impossible that the change there apparent could be wrought in less than three months.

Nothing has been done towards restoring the ruined towns, villages and farm houses. But the original impression of unutterable devastation created by them is immensely softened by the fact that they are now almost hidden in waving grain fields, smiling vineyards and blossoming orchards.

The French soldiers working under direction of French generals, who know other things than mere military operations, have found the means of saving thousands of trees.

Throughout the entire district devastated by the Germans there were thousands of trees that the close pursuit of the French kept the Germans from having time completely to cut down. Instead, the Kultured Tree Killers cut off a circle of bark around the trunk of the tree, which with a few days' exposure to the sun would be sufficient to kill peach, plum, apple, apricot and cherry trees that had been half a century attaining their then actual productiveness.

These trees presented the easiest problem. The wounds were merely bound up like the wounds of a soldier. Thousands of Army surgeons and Red Cross ambulance drivers and stretcher carriers assisted too in this work. The circles where the bark had been cut away was first covered with a special grafting cement, and the entire wound then carefully bandaged up after with the same bandages that had been prepared for human limbs.

So great was the number of trees in this way that the entire available supply of grafting preparation was quickly exhausted. Tar was then used as a substitute and finally even a loamy clay. Substitutes for surgical bandages also had to be found and in the end it was discovered that moss twisted and tied about the dressed wound was as effective as anything else.

A much more serious problem of course presented itself where the trees had been entirely cut or sawed down. But here French genius also solved the problem.

The stumps protruding usually two or three feet from the ground were first trimmed off in a scientific manner so as to conserve the sap and prevent the death of the roots. This stump was then treated with the grafting paste, and carefully rendered still the cut-down tree.

DECORATED BUT HE CAN'T TELL WHY

Naval Ethics Prevent Commander Campbell From Telling Cause of Remarkable Career

MUST WAIT FOR WAR TO END

(By United Press.)

London, June 10 (By mail) — Commander Gordon Campbell, mysterious hero of the British navy, leaped 700 junior naval officers in promotion, became a member of the Distinguished Service Order and was decorated with the Victoria Cross in less than a year and a half. Yet, with a storm raging around his secret career, he is bound by naval ethics not to tell publicly how he won either his promotion or the high honors bestowed by King George.

Curiosity started mildly, but when Campbell and the Admiralty remained silent, the demand for information reached the proportion of a public uproar. Campbell is not criticized, exactly; the public really wants a chance to sing his praises. The music is ready but the English hero worshippers refuse to sing a song without words, which makes the present demonstration a clamor instead of a popular lamination.

A high official of the Admiralty today assured the United Press that Campbell's achievements and bravery during the war deserves every ray of honor turned upon him. When the war is over the people may know what he did and how he did it, but for the time being his deeds must remain behind the veil.

Just recently his name appeared in the Court Circular as the recipient of the Victoria Cross, highest of all honors for sheer bravery, so Campbell must have found something more exciting than the command of the Bittern.

and life that remained in it after being cut down. Branches that showed great numbers of buds and other signs of exceptional vitality were then cut off and finally grafted into the carefully prepared stump. Today these grafts are in full leaf and blossom, the roots appear to have been entirely saved and by this process years have been saved in restoring the downcast orchards of France.

On every hand are also to be seen carefully and cultivated and sown fields each bearing its nice little painted sign:

"Terpaine Cultive Par L'Armee" (Ground Cultivated by the Army). As the troops pass, either going to or from the front, they stop and dedicate a day to the cultivation of the redeemed fields. The next day they pass on and other troops resume the work. It is doubtful if any one soldier will ever again see the fields he has worked — or help gather the crops he has cultivated. But he works just as willingly knowing that it is all for France and all for the ultimate victory.

No more convincing denial of the German's claim that they abandoned this territory of their own free will and not under irrevocable military pressure could be imagined than a glimpse at the wonderful productiveness of these growing fields and blossoming orchards. While their abundant crops will be welcomed by all France this coming summer and fall there can be no question but they would have been a thousand times more vitally necessary to starving Germany — had she been able to hang onto them.
